What do I need to do to become an AEC Conversion System installer?

Complete Installer Application

Becoming an AEC Conversion installer of our EPA certified systems is very simple. You need to fill out the AEC Prospective Installer Application forms that are downloadable on our website or that will be provided to you by a company sales representative. Once completed, return them to Altech-Eco Corporation via fax to 828-654-8747 or e-mail them to the sales representative.

The web site also provides you a System Order Form. Completion and submission of this order form is the only way an order will be processed for purchase. Please complete the order form with the appropriate information and forward it to your sales representative.

Additionally, we provide Vehicle Owner Information forms that will need to be completed and returned to Altech-Eco for each conversion performed by you or your staff. Once Altech-Eco receives this form from customer or I activate the system warranty in the vehicle owners name for each completed vehicle conversion.

Receive Training

We do not charge any additional fee for training. Approved installers for the AEC Conversion system will be provided with an installation training DVD and manual, which will adequately explain how properly to install the system. There is no cost to the approved installer for this training media. The AEC alternate fuel system is designed to be the simplest and easiest conversion system available in the automotive aftermarket today. Automotive technicians with prior dealership experience or equivalent work history will find themselves very comfortable installing an AEC Conversion System. However, if additional training is desired, please contact a sales representative for details and arrangements.

Additionally, we have provided an Essential Tools List on our website of the items we have found which will greatly assist you in making your AEC Conversion System installation quick and efficient.

Purchase Required Parts and Tool Inventory

We do require that you purchase a small list of essential parts from us to qualify to become an installer. Every installer will also act as a service center for AEC converted alternate fuel vehicles. These essential parts are necessary for any approved installer to have on hand in order to provide timely service and warranty on the converted vehicles. This essential parts inventory will be a one-time purchase. However, as an approved installer you must maintain an inventory of these essential parts at all times. It is our desire to responsibly care for the service and warranty needs each customer who will be operating an AEC alternate fuel vehicle. By having immediate access to an inventory of replacement parts crucial to the proper operation of the alternate fuel vehicle your customer will be assured of service that will greatly exceed their expectations.
